Pitts-Texas Company Strike Oil

YOUNG GIRL PAINFULLY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY TRUCK

Twenty-five Barrel Well on Fife Farm

Word was received here yesterday that the drillers on the well of the Pitts-Texas Gas and Oil company on the Fife farm in Washington county had struck a good flow of oil when the drill had penetrated the fifth sand at a distance of ten feet. Drilling was suspended temporarily and the flow of gas was measured, averaging about a barrel an hour without being pumped. This is one of the best wells ever brought in in this section and the stockholders are highly elated over the prospect of a good paying proposition.

Several days ago when the drill penetrated the fourth sand gas in paying quantities was found, but with good indications for oil the drillers were instructed to continue their work and were repaid with the strike of yesterday. Drilling will continue through the fifth sand and indications are that the well will give an even greater flow than that registered yesterday.

The Pitts-Texas Gas & Oil company is practically a local organization and the news of the strike was greeted here with enthusiasm. The company has a 960 acre lease in this territory and will start immediately to drill another well. The Fife farm is located near Canonsburg.

No Game Saturday

Owing to a cancellation by the Oakmont High school the local High school football team is without a game for this week and repeated attempts to fill the open date have proven futile, all of the city teams with open dates preferring to keep their records clean, without meeting the locals. The boys, however, are practicing each night in preperation for the big game of the season the following Saturday, when they will meet the Uniontown team in the final game for the championship. Both teams have gone through the season without tasting defeat and the game is attracting attention in both Westmoreland and Fayette counties.

It is expected that a thousand loyal fans will accompany the team to the Fayette county seat and a victory for the locals will put them in line for the W. P. I. A. L. championship as up until the present time only two other teams in the Pittsburgh district have won all their games this season. The Uniontown team, with numerous substitutions was held to a tie score by the Morgantown team which earlier in the season was defeated by the locals by a score of 28 to 0. Coach Townsend will take his entire squad to Uniontown Saturday to watch their future opponents in action.

Surprise Party

Miss Margaret Pecook was tendered a very pleasant surprise party Monday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Pecook, of McManar. It was the young lady's birthday, she having reached the age of fifteen years. Having been called to the home of a friend, she was greatly surprised upon her return to find her home filled with guests and upon having a merry time. After the surprise was over, Miss Pecook served an appetizing lunch and the evening passed quickly. Games were played and music enlivened the occasion. The home was decorated in pink and white carnations. A lunch lunch was served after which the guests departed for their homes.

Local Court Cases

Monessen figured prominently in the second day of November term of quarter sessions court held at Greensburg yesterday. The first case that was placed on trial before Judge McConnell was one wherein James DeSanders of this city was charged with aggravated assault and battery. The prosecutor stated that on June 5th the defendant burnt his son, Joseph Filip, aged 17 years, with a hot counter die, while at work in the die room of a local mill. The young man stated that he had been off duty three months, doctoring the wound. The jury after hearing the testimony brought in a verdict of not guilty but the defendant was asked to pay the costs.

Walter Jenkins of this city was before Judge Copeland to answer the charge of highway robbery. It was stated that he had robbed several people and for each of the charges he was sentenced to serve a term in jail of ninety days, the terms to run concurrent. In the case of Morgan Paul, charged with entering a building, sentence was suspended upon payment of costs.

Fear Controversy

By CHARLES M. McCANN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Nov. 10—Complications between the United States government and the Bolsheviki were foreseen here today as a result of the reported murder of Captain Emmet Kilpatrick, Mobile, Ala., Red Cross man, by red raiders near Salvado Station.

A dispatch from Sebastopol, headquarters of the anti-Bolshevik leader, Baron von Wrangel, said that Kilpatrick and two other Red Cross men had been slain by Cossacks believed to be part of the command of Gen. Budenny, who took such a prominent part in the operation against Poland. The killings were said to have been marked by cruelties.

There was considerable doubt here as to what action, if any, might be taken by the United States government.

The American government would be powerless, it was pointed out, at the present time to do more than make representations to Lenine and Trotsky.

Kilpatrick, a member of the expedition sent to Kolchak and his companion, Dr. [illegible] Russell, [illegible] R. [illegible] were on a mercy mission through the battle area when they were captured by Cossacks.

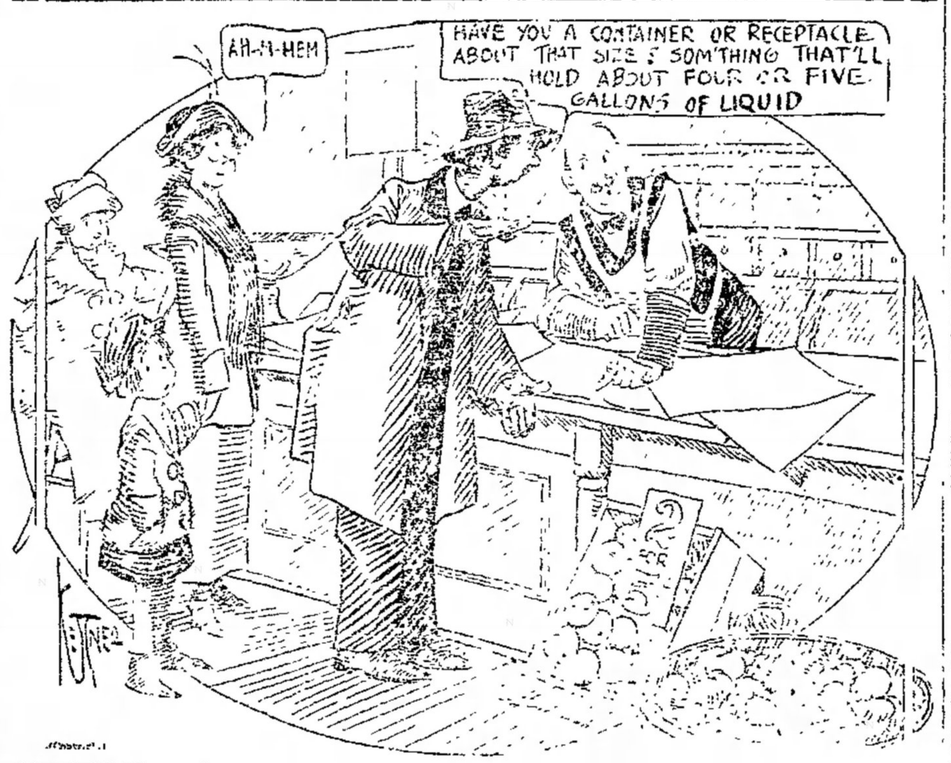
A Troubled Conscience



COMPLIMENTARY DINNER GIVEN BANKER IN HONOR OF TWENTY YEARS SERVICE

In honor of the completion of twenty years of active continuous service with the First National bank of Monessen, an informal complimentary dinner was tendered J. Howard Kelly, president of the institution at the Monongahela Valley Country Club last night. The weather was not at all inviting on account of a continuous rain that set in early in the day and kept up until late in the evening yet more than sixty persons braved the elements and were present to do honor to one of the town's distinguished citizens and successful business men.

Mr. Kelly is connected with two local banks, the First National and Monessen Savings and Trust company and the guest list embraced directors and employees of the two banks and the local newspaper men. With the exception of half a dozen who were detained on account of sickness or other unavoidable reason, a general response was given to the invitation.

The dinner consisted of turkey and the trimmings and was served in [illegible] style. The dining tables were decorated with natural flowers, and were tastefully arranged, giving ample opportunity for the sociability that manifested itself early in the evening. After the dinner Dr. A. R. Wilson assumed the role of toastmaster and as a prelude to his remarks he read an original poem, which was dedicated to the honor guest.

Thomas N. Ely was the first speaker, being assigned the topic, "Twenty Years Behind the Bars." He handled the subject well, recounting his acquaintance with Mr. Kelly back through the early days of the town, his close association with him in banks and other business activities and in a social way.

Among those who spoke in commendation of the long business, social and neighborly acquaintance with Mr. Kelly were Hon. H. W. Dow, H. R. Pyle, Alfred Tarzer, C. H. Tomlinson, G. F. Kelly, of Scottdale and C. J. Shirk. Tom Parenti, an associate in the Foreign Department of the Trust company, on meeting that he might be called upon for a speech, pulled from his pocket a written document, and after explaining that he felt safer to trust himself with an oral speech, proceeded to deliver the needed document in a manner that aroused considerable merriment. Tony no only testified to the merits of Mr. Kelly as a banker and employer, but he spoke in a humorous way about his fellow employees in the bank and made excuses for their shortcomings on account of so many of them being former school teachers.

Rev. D. J. Snyder of Greensburg was present. He was given a date to in the bank for many years and was called to speak on behalf of the directors. Mr. Snyder precluded his remarks with a humorous story or two and then got into the subject of banking, the kind of man it takes [illegible] and equally proud of the salary attached. His assistant cashier received $600 a year and was likewise appreciative of the reward for the responsibility assumed.

Since that time the complete roster of the bank has changed, directors have come and gone and all former employees have gone. Mr. Kelly being the only attache of the bank to remain. In his talk which was vivid with history of the early days, he reviewed some of the trials of the city and spoke of his appreciation of the neighbors and friends with whom he has worked through all the vicissitudes of time and of the gratification to be honored by their presence on such an occasion. Mr. Kelly's talk was the climax of the speaking and it was interesting throughout.

The combined assets of the institutions that have become great under his generalship amount to $3,000,000 and are still growing. His friends, as was testified, have always been confined to banking. He has taken a prominent part in every movement to advance Monessen, [illegible] school, lodge and [illegible] activities alike have felt his worthy influence and last night's gathering of his fellow workers and neighbors and friends was a testimonial of appreciation of a worthy citizen.

THE BEACH

The man behind the oyster counter who opens clams and oysters is practicing the oldest craft in the human world.

That's the conclusion of Professor Thomas Cherry of the University of Melbourne.

No need to wonder at the courage of the first man to eat an oyster raw! He did that before he became a man. It was by gathering, opening and eating oysters that the monkey-like animal, from which humans evolved, developed a brain and became intelligent.

Professor Cherry finds many reasons for thinking that the evolution of many took place on the ocean beach. If man had developed in the forest his ages-long struggle with mosquitoes and other forest insects would have made him immune to malaria, dystentery and other allied diseases.

Evolution on the beach would explain man's loss of a hairy coat. The bare skin dries more quickly, and under sea shore conditions is less affected by the heat or cold.

The ocean beach is little frequented by large and dangerous animals. That would explain man's failure to develope great teeth, swift legs or other organs of defense or attack.

Earliest man, living on the beach developed fresh powers of observation and imitation in the search for shellfish, crabs and turtle eggs. This development has great survival for him than lengthening of canine teeth says Prof. Cherry.

To sit on the beach and watch the waves has a peculiar fascination for most men. No wonder, if that was the habit of their ancestors thru the long ages in which they were developing into men who later would learn to walk on their hind legs, carry umbrellas and wear derby hats.

ANOTHER WAR COMING

France believes another war is coming. The French government, therefore, refuses to abolish conscription. A service law is now being prepared under which all French men physically fit must join the colors at 20 years of age and remain in the active army for 18 months or two years. The full time of the conscription period has not yet been finally determined. But, France has decided to retain her conscription system, even tho conscription in Germany has been compulsorily abolished by the allies.

This is France's answer to the reluctance of the great powers to guarantee the world against a new conflict. Preparing for war is an inevitable way of causing war. Nevertheless, if France doesn't prepare, and if the great powers continue to remain indifferent to the demands of peace, France will become Germany's victim. Therefore, France has to make ready for her own self-defense.

If another war comes, it cannot be confined to the initial combatants. The recent conflict showed how futile was that belief. France's acceptance afresh of the costly insurance of conscription must be regarded as a solemn warning to the world. The time to stop the next war is now, before preparations for it gain a resistless momentum. The only way it can be stopped is by concerted action on the part of the world powers, including principally the United States. Preparing to enforce peace involves a certain amount of risk. But how much greater the risk if war is allowed to come unchecked.

Afternoon Tea Doughnuts

2 eggs
6 tablespoons sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon grated nutmeg
2 tablespoons shortening
6 tablespoons milk
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder

Opening Sale of Lester Pianos Players and Grands

Direct From Factory at a Saving From

$75 to $125

COMMENCING FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12th

TEN DAYS ONLY

HAYS PLAYER PIANO $595

During This Special Sale

If there is anyone in this Vicinity that intends buying a Piano within the next six months it will pay you to come to this Sale. Never before have you been given the opportunity of buying a strictly high grade Piano like the Lester at any such reduction in price. We absolutely guarantee you the above saving. The Lester Piano is one of the finest pianos on the market today regardless of price. Quality has always reigned supreme in the Lester Factory.

Six Reasons Why You Should Buy A Lester

First—Who makes it?

The Lester Piano and the Lester Player Piano is made complete in one mammoth factory. The same men who built the Lester thirty-five years ago are still at the head of this huge plant and have guided its destinies through its entire history. Every part of the instrument no matter how small or how large it is and the entire player mechanism is completely made under one roof. Through every operation in its manufacture each part is under the most rigid inspection. Only the absolutely perfect piece survives these expert examinations. This means that the Lester is a complete whole, each unit Lester made and Lester designed to fit and work perfectly with every other unit. The advantage of this is obvious.

Second—How long will it last?

Few things so truly reflect the character and honesty of the makers as pianos. The kind that is put together to sell for a price inevitably wears out in a few years. The type that is not designed properly and made conscientiously is at best but a temporary affair. At the Lester factory only the most skilled workmen are employed, only the few finest materials are used, only the most scientific designing is accepted. Everything must measure up to Lester standards—the standards that have made it prominent for a third of a century. The Lester is an object of zealous endeavor on the part of the craftsman who make it—all trained to the tone and quality ideals of those who first conceived the Lester Piano. The remarkable stamina and durability of the Lester is phenomenal, and the manner in which all Lesters hold their original sterling qualities of tone, put on and finish makes them leaders in the field of high grade instruments.

Third—The tone

The piano is more than a machine. The art equation must be instilled into the inanimate materials through the human element to the end that the tone shall be pure, clear, sweet and true. In the Lester this has been attained to a remarkable degree. Not only is the voicing of the instrument rich and mellow, but scientific construction enables it to hold its tone for an indefinite length of time. It stays in tune.

Fourth—The action

The action is the heart of the piano or player-piano. In the Lester it is easy and responsive. This means that expression and interpretation on the Lester soon become natural and instinctive. On the player-piano, the average person can play like a finished musician. The action of the Lester is so balanced and so free from friction that there is virtually no wear whatever incident to the playing. It lasts.

Fifth—Design and finish

The design of the Lester is simple and artistic. Purity of line is sought rather than elaborate, fancy scrolls. It will not become out of date. Its superlative finish is exquisite and lasting. No matter what your style of furniture you can get a Lester to match. Any wood, in any finish—satin, bright or craftsman—can be furnished.

Sixth—Guarantee

The guarantee of the Lester Piano Company amply protects the purchaser of any instrument bearing its name. The pianos and players carry their own message of tone and quality, and the commercial standing of the firm behind them assures perfect protection to every buyer. It is through satisfaction that this immense Lester business has been built—satisfaction of more than one hundred thousand users in all parts of the world. Could more than a million people be wrong?

Made Prisoner in Bridal Gown

Suppose you, a woman, were to be married to the man of your choice, were already arrayed in your wedding gown and were adjusting your veil, when your own father sneaked up to the door, locked you in, and departed from the house. Wouldn't that make you slightly peevish?

You can imagine Ruth Storrow's indignation when, after her her father had played such a trick on her, she found on guard below her window her former sweetheart, the man whom she had jilted for another.

That is the situation which confronts Ruth Storrow in the second episode of "Bride 13" which will be shown at the Olympic theatre today.

In the report of police court activities appearing in yesterday's paper the name of George Anderson was among those found on the docket, but the man referred to, was not George Anderson of 68 Lenawee avenue, a foreman at the Pittsburgh Steel Products company, who is a law abiding citizen and has never appeared in police court.

In a police court article in yesterday's paper alluding to the mixup in the Hale family it was stated that all plead guilty to being drunk which statement was an error and an injustice to Roy Hale, the blind boy who is a total abstainer. In justice to the young man who carries an affliction and who is a victim of charity we make this correction and hope that those who have helped him on account of his worthiness will continue to do so. He made the information against his brother charging him with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.
